

FS297 Portfolio I * Sharon Kaitner, M.Ed., Instructor * Fall 2011

Your Name:		Comments below:

Please note these are the minimum items your portfolio entails. Your grade includes professional conduct, individual assignments and the quality of the portfolio created.
4 web sites, group and/or individually created. Students are encouraged to have at least one demonstration site in html 5/css 3. All sites will follow the guidelines of the w3c.	list projects
2 interactive media (.swf, sound files, movies, interfaces, games)	list projects
@print cascading stylesheet
Accessible and usable in Firefox, Safari, IE6 and above, Chrome, and via a smartphone (flexible layout, javascript or css).
Be associated with a Google Analytics or equivalent monitoring system to track users.	anything notable within your analytics
Takes full use of semantic markup, metadata tags, and clean code (progressive enhancement and graceful degradation) to maximize search engine	list the browsers and resolutions you tested
All images and links use the title attribute; all images must use the alt attribute.	please note this is both links and images
One complete process book, based on your best web site, linked from your portfolio site in .pdf format. If you are graduating, this should be professionally printed and presented as part of your overall presentation at the Portfolio
Business cards, giveaway prototype, resume and cover letter on personal stationery.
MLA-formatted research on career-related subject. Highly suggested is research on a company that you wish to work for, but you may also interview a professional in the web/interactive media field. 3 resources are cited.
All code should be commented, including
No grammar or spelling errors.
Purchased domain name.	please provide url	